Candy in their wake

By Josh Thompson

Beginning Sunday, Jan. 1, parking in California will no longer be able to be towed or impounded due to increased car parking problems. The new law is among nearly 500 for 2012.

Although Assembly Bill 1700, sponsored by State Assemblyman Billy Calderon, D-Los Angeles, failed in the Assembly due to unresolved issues at the committee level, the California Highway Patrol Department Chief Bill Lansford said officers will follow the law.

"What it comes down to is new scrappiness. If there is another way to tow the vehicle away from the property, the driver is not impounded. If a tow is necessary, the driver is not impounded," said Lansford.

The law was proposed after officails in Bell is alleged to have impounded up to 20 cars per day.///

Several children grab candy thrown from parade participants at the annual Chino Hills Bowl parade Dec. 33 along Peyton and Boyce Ranch Drive and Eucalyptus Avenue in Chino Hills. More than 3,000 people attended the event, and 40 boats took part.

Law reprieves unlicensed drivers from instant tow

The parade of 250 hot rod lovers that marched across the property of Chino Hills. changing the view in the historic Chino Valley Assembly of the front pages of the Chino Tribune. In 1920, Chino Hills will boast the largest car collection in southern California.

The 125th year No. 9 - 4 sections

B3

At Your School... B2

Business B4

Classified B5

Community B1, C1

Entertainment B6

Fire Calls B5

Here and There B3

Obituaries B3

Opinion B4

People B2

Religion B3

Sports B1, C1, C3

The Week Ahead... A2

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.

Southern California Edison subcontractors construct a transmission line on Eucalyptus Avenue in Chino Hills between Calle Barcelona and Calle Mimarom in October. The towers remain unfinished because the SCE Corp. halted work on the project next month.

Sousa is the mayor of Calle r the city's first major project that was delayed due to the state's budget crisis. The tower was scheduled to be completed in 2012, but it was delayed due to the state's budget crisis.

In February, the Piccard Airlines, which was the state's largest private employer, closed its operations. The airline was forced to declare bankruptcy, leaving hundreds of employees without jobs.///

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.

The year that was

Chino, Chino Hills find themselves locked in struggles with the state, Edison

One major casualty in Chino was the city's Historic Cultural Arts Center. The Chino Valley school officials spent the year coping with the state's cuts in education funding. In April, the city was forced to lay off 10 staff members, including the parks and recreation department. In June, the city was forced to close the city pool, which had been a popular attraction for children in the community.