

Fears, Frustration and Firefighting

Commemorating the 10 Year Anniversary of the November 2008 Freeway Complex Fire.

Flames crest ridges above Canon Lane, as seen from Oak Tree Downs.

Staff suit up at the Olinda Historic Museum to fight the wildland fire.

Flames burn down the hill above Olinda Ranch homes.

Fire trucks reposition to gain the upper hand on the multi-county fire.

An American Flag waves in the foreground as the fire consumes the hills.

The fire burning in Yorba Linda, as viewed from Olinda Village.

Residents flee from flames and smoke above Olinda Ranch.

The fire's smoke billows into the sky, as seen from Cal State Fullerton.

This helicopter scoops water up from Carbon Canyon Regional Park.

Firefighters positioned in Vellano Park study flames approaching from the Park.

A super scooper drops the fire retardant, foscheck, on unburned hillsides.

Flames consume brush and grass in a canyon behind Vellano Park homes.

Flames burn into the City of Diamond Bar.

The Freeway Complex Fire plume of smoke shoots into the blue sky.

© Jose A. Fernandez - UltraLight Photography.com - Used with permission

© Jose A. Fernandez - UltraLight Photography.com - Used with permission

© Jose A. Fernandez - UltraLight Photography.com - Used with permission